Veteran Prison Head's Suspension Set For Thirty Days

ACTION IS SEEN
AS REMOVAL STEP

Successor Was Formerly
Head Of London
Prison Farm

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, March 2.—Warden
James C. Woodard of Ohio penitententiary today was suspended for 30 days, effective immediately. Welfare Director Charles L. Sherwood named William F. Amrine acting warden.

Woodard's suspension was regarded as the first step by Sherwood to remove the veteran prison head, who has been warden for four years and who had served as deputy warden 20 years before that.

Amrine, who conducted an investigation of the century-old prison at Sherwood's request, formerly headed the London prison farm.
He recently was named state superintendent of corrections.

Woodard's suspension had been expected since Sherwood announced that evidence had been uncovered supporting reports that favoritism was shown to some convicts, and that liquor and narcotics were bootlegged to prisoners.

It was just four years ago that Woodard was elevated to the warden's post after former Gov. Martin
L. Davey suspended Warden
P. E. Thomas on charges of mismanagement.

Removal charges were filed against Thomas, who fought the case at first, but later resigned.
Amrine quit his post at the London prison farm after refusing former Welfare Director Margaret Al-lman's request that he ascertain the political affiliations of guards at the institution.

Sherwood's suspension notice to Woodard said:

"This is to notify you that effective as of Thursday noon, March 2, 1939, you are suspended for a period of 30 days for disciplinary purposes. During this suspension period, you will have no access to the office of the warden of Ohio penitentiary and I am appointing
Mr. W. F. Amrine as acting warden, and notifying him to this effect. All official keys for the office and for the files should be turned over to Mr. Amrine at once."

Victors in Chicago Primaries

Mayor Kelly

Dwight Green

By the greatest landslide in Chicago primary history, Mayor Edward J. Kelly overpowered his Democratic mayoralty opponent, State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney. At the same time, the political aspirations of William Hale (Big Bill) Thompson, one-time mayor, were believed ended by his smashing defeat in the Republican primaries by Dwight H. Green. The overwhelming Democratic vote is considered significant in regard to the 1940 national election.

17-Year-Old Youth
Held In Extortion

BUFFALO, March 2.—A 17-year-
old youth was under arrest today
after G-men blocked an attempt to extort "several thousand dollars" from a prominent upstate farmer with threats of harm to him and his daughter, a Syracuse university coed.

Federal Bureau of Investigation
Agent John W. Warnes announced that Robert George Case, 17, of Cuyler, had been arrested in connection with an attempt to extort money from Benjamin F. Lee,
well known Cuyler farmer.

Warnes said Case admitted writing a letter threatening Lee with death and warning that his daughter, Barbara, 19, "would come up missing" unless the money was paid.

Case was arrested late last night
after a foot race through a wood when G-men and deputy sheriffs closed in on him in a "payoff trap."

HIGHWAY AIDS
AT WORK TODAY

12 Report At Leetonia; 9
More To Be Assigned
On April 1

LEETONIA, March 2.—Twelve of 25 Republican-appointed state highway department workers joined the Columbiana county highway force
today.

Edward Harsh, superintendent, said nine more workers will report on April 1 and others probably later. They are replacing Democrats.

Of the new employees, two were assigned today to the Salem area,
one to Lisbon and nine to Leetonia.
All are employed as laborers and truck drivers.

Atty. Walter B. Hill at East Liverpool, Columbiana county Republican chieftain, said this morning he contacted Columbiana officials yesterday concerning other job appointments in the county.

Near Normal Temperatures
Due in March, Says Copeland

Backbone Of Winter Broken (We Hope) Following
Unusually Erratic February

With the backbone of winter broken, the weather outlook for March is "near normal temperatures and plenty of moisture," L. H.
Copeland of Millport, district weather observer, predicted today.

Despite an erratic February, which featured heat waves, three sub-zero readings, rapid changes in temperature and buffeting winds, Copeland said that wheat plants are in good condition and promise an average crop. Fruit prospects are good, with most buds now in a dormant stage.

To date farmers have been unable to do much outdoor work and the stock has been using a normal amount of feed.

The temperature, snowfall, precipitation and sunshine all were above normal last month, according to the observer's records. The percentage of sunshine was 40, compared to 15 per cent a year ago.

SCORE OR MORE
BELIEVED DEAD
IN HOTEL FIRE

Blaze Destroys Queen
Hotel In Nova Scotia
Business Area

48 OUT OF 117
ACCOUNTED FOR

20 In Hospitals, Burned
Or Injured From Jumping

HALIFAX, Nova Scotia, March 2.
—(Canadian Press)—More than a score of persons were missing and believed dead today after fire destroyed the Queen hotel and swept through a large section of this seaport's closely-built business section, causing damage estimated at $800-000.

Only 48 of the 117 persons believed to have been in the hotel
when the early morning fire broke out were accounted for definitely at noon, but police said others undoubtedly had escaped.

Hotel Register Buried
Police officials, after conferring with hotel employees, said the death list might be as high as 30. The hotel register was buried in a safe beneath tons of debris.

Twenty survivors were in hospitals, many suffering serious injuries from the flames or from jumping out windows when fire raging through the 50-year-old wood and stucco structure cut off
other avenues of escape.

Among the victims admitted to Victoria General hospital was Miss Jean Sherwood of New York,
ice carnival star.

Others missing or injured all were listed as Canadians.
Four hours after the fire was discovered, the flames still were shooting from the ruined hotel and from adjacent buildings but it was believed they were under control.

Firemen said men and women in night clothes were clinging to window ledges and screaming for help when they first reached the scene.
Many jumped from upper stories
and sustained grave injuries.

Fear Many Trapped
Authorities said there had been about 117 persons in the hotel and expressed fears that many had been trapped by the swiftly spreading flames.

Several were seen at smoke-filled windows trying to escape only to fall back into the blazing structure.

MINERS BACKING
OHIO FUEL BILL

Workmen To Descend On Capitol To Put Pressure On Assembly

COLUMBUS, March 2.—Hundreds of coal miners were reported to be converging on the capitol today to put pressure on the Ohio legislature for enactment of a law
to help their industry.

The measure, up for a vote in the house, is designed to compel the burning of Ohio-mined coal in all tax-supported institutions,
ranging from one-room school houses to the state house.

It would prohibit the use of the
out-of-state coal in the institutions unless it was quoted at a price 20 per cent less than Ohio coal. Officials who violated the law would be liable to a $500 fine.

500 Expected
More than 500 miners and business men from the Hocking valley and eastern Ohio coal fields sent word they would be here.

Neighboring states producing coal have threatened to pass retaliatory legislation if the Ohio coal bill becomes law. One branch of the West Virginia legislature already has approved such an act.
The measure was bottled up in the reference committee of the

File 132 Claims

Columbiana county workers filed with the state industrial commission during January 132 claims, one of which was fatal, it is disclosed
today.

None of the claims showed permanent partial disability but 29 claims listed more than seven days lost time, seven others claims seven days or less. In addition, there were 95 medical cases. The county's time loss for the month was 6,808

WILL SEND FIVE
TO BOYS' STATE

Legion Making Arrangements For Civic Instruction

Charles H. Carey post No. 56 again is making arrangements to send five high school youths to the Buckeye Boys' State this summer
at Columbus. It was disclosed today by Fred Ludington, post commander.

The post has asked permission of the state Legion organization to send five boys as in the past. W. L.
Hart and Harold F. Wyckoff are handling registrations, aided by school officials.

Under rules outlined by the trustees of Boy's State, the school must be limited to 700. The school this year will be held during the period of June 17 to 27. Twenty-three other states in the nation are sponsoring the schools this year.

The boys are selected from the high school, either by the faculty with final determination of the entrant by final vote, or by faculty members with final selection of the entrant by the Legion post.

The Boy's State is an intensive training school for study of state, county and city government under competent supervision by trained men.

Boys' State members learn to draft legislation and then enact it into law. They also learn to make laws effective by proper enforcement.

SECRETARY TO
PIUS SELECTED
ON THIRD VOTE

Not Since 1621 Has Papal
Conclave Acted So
Swiftly

ASSUMES NAME OF
HIS PREDECESSOR

Imparts First Benediction
To Throng Before
St. Peter's

(By Associated Press)
VATICAN CITY, March 2.—Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli today was elected 262nd pope of the Holy Roman church on his 63rd birthday
and assumed the name of Pius XII.
The name under which the new pontiff will be spiritual ruler of 331,500,000 Catholics was assumed in recognition of his accession to Pope Pius XI, to whom he was papal secretary of state.

The election of the eminent Italian cardinal on the third ballot of the first day of the conclave's voting was without precedent in the modern history of the church.

Not since 1621, when Gregory XV
was chosen, had a conclave acted so promptly.

Versed In Church
The new pontiff has a thorough knowledge of the church in the United States, where he was visitor in October and November, 1936.

The date of his coronation will be announced later.

The election of Pope Pius XII
shattered another tradition in that rarely has a secretary of state to the preceding pope been elevated to the papal seat.

Before the conclave opened, Cardinal Pacelli was reported to be the favorite of the 27 foreign popes because he was believed to be best qualified to continue the policies of Pius XI, who died Feb. 10.

As if to indicate his intentions of following in the footsteps of his predecessor, the new pope selected the same name.

Pius XII imparted his first papal benediction from the central balcony of St. Peter's to a wildly cheering throng shortly after the announcement of his election.

Given Big Ovation
The crowd burst into a tremendous ovation as his holiness came forward to the balustrade and silently gazed down.

"Viva Il Papa!" the spectators
roared. Handkerchiefs and hats were waved from thousands of hands.

The pontiff let the ovation continue for some minutes; then he lifted his right hand and signaled for the benediction.

A silence fell on the crowd and some knelt.

A monsignor opened a large ritual box and held it for the pontiff to see.

The Pius XI began to speak in Latin.

Pius XII appeared on the balcony
at 6:22 p. m. (12:22 p. m. EST), 13 minutes after the announcement of his election.

After giving his blessing, he remained for several minutes, smiling down on the vast crowd.

Nine Lose Jobs As
Reports Disappear

EAST LIVERPOOL, March 2.—
Nine municipal waterworks employees were suspended Wednesday
by Service-Safety Director James R. Hall after surveyor's reports and other data pertaining to a $66,000 PWA electrification program at the pumping station here disappeared.

"Eight innocent men and one guilty person, all members of a night crew, are suspended until the missing data are returned,"
Hall informed the workers.

Hall said he "regretted suspension of innocent men, but it was necessary in order to determine the guilty person."

Municipal officials said the surveying figures, etc., were taken from a desk, presumably with the mistaken idea the theft would retard the electrification project which is expected to reduce operating expense $16,000 or more a year.
Eight workers were reinstated
as soon as the guilty person's name is revealed. The suspended men include engineers, firemen, oilers
and other workers.

NO OPPONENT

The country is impressed with the navy's sparring exhibition with itself in the Caribbean. That was part of the idea. The other part is to familiarize navy personnel with battle tactics.

For a number of years these exercises were held in the Pacific, where Japan was the theoretical enemy. Europe tension seemed to make inadvisable this year to shift the scene.

The identity of the theoretical enemy is not plain, it being even more improbable that any nation would attack the United States from the Atlantic than from the Pacific.

Presumably, navy officials are satisfied that they could put up a good fight in either ocean. The only thing lacking is a likely opponent, a shortcoming which the navy shares with Joe Louis, the dreadnought of the squared circle.

THREE MEETINGS

A week after the "bundies" had their now famous meeting in Madison Square Garden, the reds of New York City met in the same place to blow off steam.

As before, the police department took control of proceedings and averted disorder, protecting the reds in the exercise of free speech but firmly denying them the pleasure of a free-for-all.

Next Friday night in Carnegie Hall there will be another meeting. Sponsor will be the Council Against Intolerance in America.

"Leaders of the city's life, of all faiths and races," says the announcement, "will make clear that intolerance is intolerable in our great metropolis."

This is beginning to look like something. When the tearer-downers prod the builder-uppers into action the result is a net gain for the condition of freedom in the United States. It's an aspect of free speech too important to be overlooked.

EFFICIENCY, OR IS IT?

Apologists for the way things work in this country probably break into a cold sweat when senators thunder objections to a national defense program and bicker over foreign policy.

For instance, it's no secret some congressmen think it's silly to build 6,000 airplanes all at once. They would become obsolete before the last ones had been delivered, is the argument.

It's a good excuse to remember that in Germany, which is leading the air armament race at the moment, such a thing can't happen. If the government decides to build 6,000 planes, 6,000 planes are built. If an armament program gets an entire nation into a jam, no one has anything to say. That's all there is to it.

If the planes become obsolete and taxpayers get stuck for the bill, that's all there is to that, too. It's one more example of how the vaunted efficiency of a totalitarian government turns out to be nothing but lack of discussion on closer examination.

MR. SAITO'S DIPLOMACY

It's to be hoped the Japanese will attach due importance to the genuine sorrow felt in this country over the death of Hiroshi Saito, Japanese ambassador in Washington from 1934 to last fall.

He had won the respect and friendship of many Americans. Diplomacy, the way he practiced it, was a delightfully inexact science. His aim was to win friends for himself and to assume they would understand his country because they understood him.

He was outstandingly successful. He was so successful, in fact, his government sometimes suspected he was more American than Japanese in his viewpoint. Nevertheless, it offered him the post of foreign minister when he retired from his Washington post. Ill health made acceptance impossible.

The point is that no Washington official who knew Mr. Saito ever will be able to think of Japan without remembering Mr. Saito, an amiable gentleman who was a constant reminder in Washington that not all Japanese have become obsessed with the spirit of militarism.

PROPAGANDA

Propaganda, experts insist, is not the horrid word it seems to be. There is good propaganda and bad propaganda.

Unfortunately, lacking a court of last resort to decide which is which, Americans will continue to think bad propaganda is what the other fellow says against the man good propaganda is what they say in favor of themselves.

In the interesting sessions of the American Association of School Administrators at Cleveland, the subject of propaganda has been brought into discussion. Interior Secretary Ickes, addressing the administrators, used the attack on the government reorganization bill as an example of bad propaganda because he believed in the bill.

It is unlikely Secretary Ickes would think of the government's attempt to popularize its point of view as propaganda at all. He probably would call it dissemination of information, despite the fact it is invariably favorable to the party in power.

Or, to use another example, what Mr. Ickes says about newspapers, which he doesn't like, is one thing, and what newspapers say about him is something else. It all goes to show what a complex thing propaganda, which used to be called simply an attempt to make the other fellow see things your way, is turning out to be in these confused times.

It is gratifying to note that the house of representatives voted against fortifying Guam. The man with his feet sticking out farthest in the aisle is the one most likely to get his toes trampled.

THE STARS SAY:

For Friday, March 3

A DRASTIC stirring of events, with sudden and surprising denouements, is presaged by this day's planetary operations. A breaking-up of long-stagnant or crystallized conditions, with thrilling reorientation of the life along new and unforeseen lines, may demand much sagacity, calm judgment and vigilance against snares, deception and intriguing or doubtful circumstances. In this, strangers and elders figure. Be careful in untried places and make decisions with forethought. Look before you leap, and all should flourish surprisingly.

Those whose birthday it is are on the threshold of a very important year in which the breaking away from old obstacles and congestions may make way for very alluring and spectacular reorientation of the life and its major objectives. Be ready for the unexpected from strange sources, possibly perilous plots, intrigues and treachery. Elders, however, or old affiliations may be depended upon for profitable contacts. Be prudent and careful.

A child born on this day, although being deep studious and industrious, with much sturdiness and dependability, may also have certain restless, erratic or radical traits which may lead to strange adventures. Yet, it may attain responsible and conspicuous public position by its inherent nobilities of character.

A LENTEN THOUGHT

By S. TALMAGE MAGANN

President Salem Ministerial Association
PATIENCE IN PRAYER

Read Isaiah 40:26-31.
Some people are disappointed in prayer and many different things may account for this unhappy experience. One lady tells of a dream which led her to realize the reason for some of her disappointments in prayer. In this dream she thought that she was in heaven and through the help of an angel was rapidly getting acquainted. She was thrilled with the happy experience of reunion with many old friends.

One day she was shown into a large room where many bundles were piled in a corner. On a number of these bundles she found her own name and address. This naturally made her curious and she asked the meaning of this. She was told that these were some of the things for which she had prayed while she was on earth. The angels had been instructed that all answers should be returned to heaven, unless the petitioner was found waiting for them when they arrived.

She awoke from her dream and was refreshed in recalling the words of Isaiah, "They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run and not be weary; they shall walk and not faint."

Prayer: "Grant us, O Lord, more patience in using the privilege of prayer. Help us to know more and more of thy abundant love for all mankind. Amen."

ANOTHER "FIRESIDE CHAT"

Don't Be A "Hair Eater"
Is Warning of Physician

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

FOR THOSE of my readers who like large words, I suggest "onychophagy." An onychophagist is a person who habitually bites his finger-nails. Some people also habitually swallow hair which they pull out of their own heads. Every once in a while a puzzled doctor comes in contact with what is known as bezoar, or hair ball, in the stomach, which is a mass of hair and finger-nails.

This condition usually arises in people of subnormal mentality. A typical case was that of a servant girl, 15 years old, who complained of nausea and vomiting. There had been a rapid loss of weight and considerable weakness. She admitted that when she was a child she used to chew and swallow her hair;

Dr. Clendingen will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

but at present, she said, she only bit her finger-nails. However, her parents stated that during the night while the patient was fast asleep, she had been observed to seize her hair, tear it out and place it in her mouth. When her stomach was opened an immense, slimy, foul-smelling hair ball was found, which completely filled the stomach.

Persimmon Seeds

Some foreign bodies are found in the stomach from eating persimmons. A typical case was that of a man 32 years old who had a sudden, severe cramp-like pain in the stomach. This went on for several days and then he began to vomit. A hard mass could be felt through the abdominal walls and at operation there was removed from the stomach a black, hard, oblong-shaped mass about the size of a fist. It consisted of a mass of persimmon seeds.

Another case was that of a man 25 years old, who had similar symptoms and stated that he ate a good many persimmons when he was 15 or 16 years old, but had eaten none since. It seems difficult to believe that a mass could remain in the stomach for nine years, but that is the story which we have to accept.

Diagnosis Overlooked

The diagnosis of these cases is almost always overlooked. This is natural because hardly anybody carries in mind the possibility of such a condition. Most of the patients are women of a somewhat substandard mentality.

Foreign bodies in the stomach cause serious complications sometimes and produce ulcerations in the stomach walls. They may even eat their way clear through the stomach, resulting in perforation and peritonitis.

Surgical treatment, in general, is quite satisfactory. The ulcerations usually clear up after the foreign body has been removed from the stomach.

The moral is: don't be an onychophagist or a hair-eater.

Answer—Coleys Serum is used for certain types of malignant growth. Wheat germ is a concentrated form of Vitamin B.

STUDY ENGINES
IN LISBON CLASSAnyone Up To 60, Not
Now In School, Eligible To Attend

LISBON, March 1—Courses in mathematics, physics, logs, slide rule and mechanical drawing will be started here next Tuesday night for students of a special class in the study of engines.

The class, which meets at 7:30 on Tuesday and Thursday nights in Lisbon High school, is open to persons up to the age of 60 years who are not enrolled in any other school. High school students are not eligible for admission.

The courses are being studied in Lisbon High school until next fall when the class will be housed in its own building where the study of engines, air conditioning, refrigeration and welding can be conducted in a laboratory. Students must take part in class room work to qualify for laboratory work.

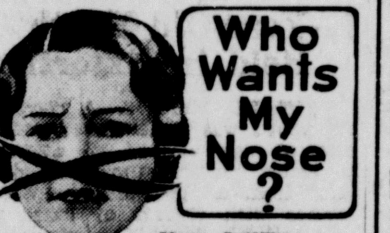

The Lisbon class is one of two of its kind in the county. The other is at East Liverpool where 283 students are enrolled. The nearest similar classes outside of Columbiana county are in Cleveland, Akron, Columbus and Mt. Vernon.

Lisbon High school has been made available for class room work through the cooperation of the board of education, while the WPA has provided several teachers, who are under the supervision of G. Porter Aiken and H. C. Leonard, superintendent of local schools.

Each instructor will be in charge of between 15 and 20 students, depending on the enrollment. No more than 80 students will be accepted for the class. Enrollments are accepted from cities other than Lisbon.

Movies and lectures from leading industrial concerns are planned to supplement class room work.

LEWISTON, Me.—Though Betty Cowing's heart is on her right side (and thus, wrong), what really interests her friends is the sensitivity of her skin to pressure. Messages written on her back are visible 20 minutes or more.

SCRANTON, Pa.—Emil Kiefer feared a package he received in the mail might be a bomb and summoned police.

Two officers promptly submerged the suspicious box in water. They let it soak thoroughly, then opened it cautiously.

Inside was—a cake, no longer edible. It had been sent by Kiefer's sister.

OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the acids and waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

MOUNT CAGERS TOP KENT FIVE IN CLOSE FRAY

Marshall Rumps To Win Over Miami To Near Conference Title

(By Associated Press)
The Buckeye college basketball season may be on the wane, but it is not reflected in the way the lads are doing battle.

Prinstitute:
Mount Union and Kent State, both well down in the Ohio conference standings, fought a nip-and-tuck engagement last night, ending in a 34-32 victory for Mount. Kent State led at the half, 15-14. Ernie Sullivan collected 11 points for the staters.

Marshall college of Huntington, W. Va., romped over Miami university, 46 to 29, to set up at least a tie for first place in the Buckeye conference. Roger Tritot set the tempo for Marshall with 16 markers.

Need Victory
If Marshall trounces Ohio university, the West Virginians will have clear claim to the title. However, if the Bobcats should score an upset victory, Marshall and Ohio Wesleyan would be tied for honors.

Wesleyan invaded Michigan last night and ended up on the mourners' bench in a 62-51 go with Western State Teachers college.

Westminster of New Wilmington, Pa., marched over John Carroll at Cleveland, 51 to 35.

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Various Spots

By EDDIE BRIETZ
NEW YORK, March 2.—Scoop-rade: National league headlines will be signed up for personal appearances at the world's fair.

Luke Appling has informed the White Sox the only cut he intends to take this summer is at the plate. Texas Christian's All-America candidate this year won't be a passer, but a guard named Bobby Sherrod. Jack Dempsey today bet $1,000 to $500 his Bill Boyd takes Jim Robinson of Philly tomorrow night in the Garden.

Extra: Frank Lane, who runs the Reds' farm clubs, was all a twitter when he called Cincy newspaper pals and said excitedly: "Congratulate me, I've had a baby!" Steve Hannagan, the demon press agent, who was accused of swiping pictures of California girls and using them to boost Florida, has taken his life in his hands and gone to Los Angeles for the Santa Anita.

Dizzy Dean takes to the air waves tomorrow night and it ought to be good. Track experts here give Glenn Cunningham three more years in the driver's seat. Note to Larry MacPhail: How did the Tigers beat you to Jim Lynn, ex-Columbus pitcher, who throws left-handed from the slab and right-handed when he plays the outfield? Frank Leahy, new Boston college coach, must get a kick out of Fordham having to hire two guys to replace him. A Billy Conn-Solly Krieger fight is on the fire for the Garden May 5.

For all the news in that Miami announcement yesterday, Mike Jacobs may just as well have "stayed in bed." Everybody who read Tuesday's papers knew all about Louis vs. Galento in June except the round it will end in. Louis hasn't quite decided on that yet.

Minnesota's renewal of grid relations with Pitt, starting in 1941, drew a rousing cheer in the Big Ten. Minnesota's non-conference breathers that year will be Pitt, Washington and Nebraska. Bernie Bierman's gray hair is turning greayer. Those American Association clubs busy worrying over how to stop the Yankees' Kansas City Blues, had better devote a little thought to the Red Sox's baby branch at Louisville, where smart old Donie Bush will run the show. Two Dodger front office guys were put on the pan at a WPA baseball forum in Flatbush. Every time they tried to put in a plug for the Brooks they got the berry on Van Mungo who should have heard the applause.

MINERS BACKING OHIO FUEL BILL

Workmen To Descend On Capitol To Put Pressure On Assembly

Ohio house for three weeks by the Republican leadership until coal miners' organizations forced its release.

The miners, contending that the bill would increase employment in the coal fields, found encouragement in a statement by Gov. John W. Bricker.

In his message to the legislature he said:

"I ask you to give attention to the proposal that, wherever practicable, tax supported institutions in Ohio be required to burn coal mined in Ohio."

In the Senate

In the senate the members prepared for a vote on a bill to reorganize the state division of conservation. It would create a commission with authority to select the conservation commissioner, a right now vested in the director of agriculture.

Sportsmen's organizations drafted the measure as a step toward taking the division "out of politics."

The senate judiciary committee also found the coal miners as well as operators on its collective neck as it sought to reach a decision on a bill to reduce pollution in the Ohio river.

Spokesmen for the miners and operators told the committee the industry would be crippled financially if required to neutralize the acid in mine drainage. They offered to go along with the bill if the mines were exempted.

Mayor James Stewart of Cincinnati, urging approval of the bill, which would make Ohio a signatory of a nine-state anti-stream pollution compact, asserted sewage in the Ohio river was becoming a serious menace to residents of river cities.

The house labor committee, after numerous hearings on a bill to create a state labor relations act, appointed a sub-committee to recommend amendments. Rep. W. H. Whethro, author of the bill, declared it was a camouflaged move to kill the measure.

The administration's program to abolish the ear-marking of state revenues was practically completed with final action on a bill to divert the intangible tax yield into the general revenue fund. The money has been ear-marked for schools heretofore.

Abolishes Job

COLUMBUS, March 2.—Tom McCaw, chief of the state division of aid for the aged, today abolished the position of Miss Blanche Stine of Enon, supervisor of examiners in the central office at $2,400 a year.

Theatre Attractions

Bela Lugosi, Boris Karloff and Basil Rathbone in a scene from the thriller, "The Son of Frankenstein," which will be the State theater's attraction Friday and Saturday.

Basil Rathbone has the title role in "The Son of Frankenstein," successor to "Frankenstein," top horror film of a few years ago, which comes to the State Friday to show through Saturday.

Leetonia Man Buys First Lisbon Tag

LISBON, March 2.—Fred Peppel of Leetonia R. D. 2 bought the first 1939 auto license tag in the county Wednesday noon after a three-hour wait.

Blanks necessary in the sale of the plates were late in arriving from Columbus, necessitating a delay here. Peppel applied early in the morning and killed time around the court house until the licenses were placed on sale.

The tags received here start with L-351-P and run to L-999-R. The plates are about 33 per cent heavier than last year when numerous complaints were received at Columbus regarding chipping. The covered wagon symbolizing the Northwest Territory Sesqui-Centennial is, of course, missing this year and the numerals are blue instead of black.

Eleven licenses were sold the opening day at the county auditor's basement office in the court house. The balance of the county motorists doing their purchasing here have until midnight, March 31, to buy and attach the plates. No extension will be permitted.

Rathbone will be seen as a scientist who takes up the work snapped short by his father's death 25 years before, and brings back to a life of human devastation the monster who made flesh creep in the original production of "Frankenstein" and its successor, "Bride of Frankenstein."

Two Monsters

Boris Karloff recreates the monster role, and Bela Lugosi of "Dracula" fame assumes an even more harrowing characterization as Ygor, broken-necked, mad shepherd cut down from the gallows. Lionel Atwill, Josephine Hutchinson, Emma Dunn, Donnie Dunagan and Edgar Norton have other leading roles.

Showing for the last time tonight at the State is the new John Garfield picture, in which he plays his first starring role. "They Made Me a Criminal," with Garfield as a discredited young fighter, gives leading roles to Claude Rains, May Robson, the "Dead End Kids," Gloria Dickson, Ann Sheridan.

The production was designed to answer the public demand for Garfield's elevation to stardom which arose after the memorable screen debut in the "Four Daughters."

Garfield is seen as a prize fighter who is suspected of a murder he didn't commit.

The Old Gray Mare 'Ain't What She Used To Be,' Jury Decides

LISBON, March 2.—"The old gray mare ain't what she used to be," according to the popular song and a petit jury verdict reached here Wednesday afternoon following a three-day trial.

The jury, after cogitating 15 minutes, decided that Joseph Penezich was entitled to recover $200 from William Landsberger because a grey mare sold to the plaintiff by Landsberger was not up to specifications. The jury, however, softened the blow for the defendant by allowing him a $125 credit on a black horse figuring in the deal.

Penezich testified that the mare was blind and that Landsberger had represented it as sound and without defects. Six witnesses corroborated his statement. Landsberger swore the mare was not blind when he sold it and six witnesses backed up his claim.

The transaction, according to the testimony, occurred April 5, 1937. Penezich told the court he had traded a black horse, and $75 to boot, for the mare. Landsberger testified the plaintiff had forcibly repossessed the black horse. Pending settlement of the case both the mare and the horse were legally impounded.

Court costs in the case will run about $75; jury fees $118.

Lisbon Court House Just 101 Years Old

LISBON, March 2.—With discussion on a new county jail gaining momentum, an old issue of the Ohio Patriot, pioneer Lisbon newspaper, is of particular interest.

The issue, dated March 9, 1838, carries a notice to contractors asking for bids on the present county jail—101 years old this month. It was signed by William D. Lepper, county auditor, on the order of the county commissioners. The latter were James Justice, George Burns and John Smith.

Acting on the January grand jury's recommendation, Sheriff Harry Gooney has invited the public to inspect the jail Sunday afternoon.

Fishing Schooner Sinks; Crew Saved

NEW YORK, March 2.—Radio Marine Corporation reported today the SS Newfoundland had rescued the 150 men aboard the leaking fishing boat Ranger which had sent out radio pleas for help.

Radio Marine reported the rescue was effected in a heavy sea after the crew of the wooden Ranger had kept her afloat by bailing with buckets.

The Newfoundland said it was trying to fasten a line to the craft and to tow it to port.
